Three Others Seriously Wounded
in Series of Disorders Aimed Against British.

MOB FLEES AFTER KILLING
New Outbreaks Bring Casualty
Toll Up to 3 Slain and 147 Injured.

Copyright, 1935, Associated Press
CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 14.—A British officer shot one rioter to death and wounded three others seriously today, it was announced officially, amid confusion arising from serious anti-British demonstrations.

Earlier reports said all four demonstrators died under the fire of the officer, who sustained minor head injuries himself in a clash with a party of Egyptians advancing on Cairo from nearby Giza.

Authorities said the officer involved in the incident was named Ambashi Lees.

Warning Shots Futile
The advancing body, armed with sticks and branches and estimated by authorities to number 1,000, was met by a force of 200 police whose warning shots failed to halt their march.

A British officer, leading the police, fired into the crowd, and one person was killed. The marchers were promptly turned and fled.

The shooting brought the total number of deaths in the anti-British manifestations to four.

A check of the casualties in the original disorders yesterday showed three dead and 147 wounded.

Armed police patrolled the streets of Cairo.

British officials conceded that they were worried by the demonstrations, which were expected to last for several days, but indicated they determined to put them down.

100 Party Members Hurt
A four of Cairo hospitals disclosed that more than 100 members of Egypt's powerful Wafd party, demanding the resignation of the government and an end to British "domination" of the kingdom's affairs, suffered injuries ranging from gunshot wounds in the legs to cracked heads in the first clashes with the authorities.

The disorders, which started during the Cairo celebration yesterday of Egypt's "independence day," spread to various smaller towns including Tanta and Beni Suef, where police fired into the crowds. Three were wounded at Tanta.

The strong nationalist Wafd movement persisted in its demand that Prime Minister Tewfik Nassim resign.

The party adopted a resolution that unless his retirement is forthcoming, the Wafd movement would refuse to cooperate in any way with the government of this nominally independent kingdom of Egypt.

Authoritative sources believed that if this program was carried out, it might result in a movement similar to India's "civil disobedience" campaign, hampering seriously Great Britain's efforts to enforce sanctions against Italy for its war on Ethiopia.

Hold Mass Meeting
The first day's disorders came to a climax last night with a great Wafd party mass meeting at which Nuh Pasha, former prime minister and leader of the independence movement, criticized Great Britain bitterly.

2,620,618 NOW HOLD
GOVERNMENT POSTS
Millions of Others Partially or Wholly Dependent Upon Federal Funds.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A survey today showed 2,620,618 persons are now employed directly by the government with millions of others partially or wholly dependent upon federal funds.

The others include an estimated 2,000,000 families still on direct relief, 400,000 persons employed in government construction outside of the works progress administration program, 350,000 drawing veterans compensation or pensions, an estimated 3,000,000 farm benefit payments also will be made during the year.

Because of the inevitable duplication in some of these figures, a total of the persons or families drawing support from the treasury could not be reached. The grand total including duplications, is estimated at 5,000,000.

Completion of the administration's program for putting 3,500,000 unemployed on work relief will swell the total drawing regular pay checks from the government to more than 4,500,000. Correspondingly, it will decrease the total of those not employed directly, but dependent upon federal money.

Report On Water Plant Valuation Prepares Way for Final Negotiations

CHANGES AMBITION
Engineering Co. Sends Appraisal; City Rejects New Offer.

PLAN REFERENDUM
Vote Will Be Called If Acceptable Figure for Purchase Is Reached.

City officials announced today that they have received the detailed analysis and appraisal of the property of the Marion Water Co., and that receipt of the report paves the way for final action on negotiations, started several months ago, to purchase the water plant for the city.

Mayor C. A. Bollin and Councilman Harry T. Bell, chairman of the waterworks committee of council, said the city will go ahead with negotiations to buy the property, and that efforts are now being made to arrange a meeting with officials of the Marion Water Co. to arrive at a final figure for consideration.

The city yesterday rejected an offer of $1,750,000 made by the water company earlier in the day, Mayor Bollin said. This is a reduction of $75,000 from the $1,750,000 offer made by the company during early negotiations.

Referendum Planned
Mr. Bell said that if the city and the water company arrive at an acceptable purchase price, complete information in connection with the sale of the property will be laid before the public and that voters and water users will have an opportunity to express themselves on the proposal in a referendum.

Mr. Bell and the mayor said that the valuation set upon the water company property will not be made public until negotiations with the water company have been completed and the city administration is ready to ask voters to approve the purchase.

The appraisal and analysis of the property, prepared by De Leuw & Co., Chicago, engineering firm, was received in the office of Mayor Bollin today.

De Leuw company was employed to make the survey of the property by the Chicago and Cincinnati engineering firms with whom the city has a contract to handle the water revenue bonds. The city, in the contract, agreed to sell the bonds to these firms provided the purchase price for the plant was agreed upon by the city and the water company, and approved by the financial concerns.

Following receipt of the appraisal Mayor Bollin said he and Mr. Bell sent the following telegram to Reeves J. Newman, president of the Community Water Service Co. of New York, of which the Marion Water Co. is a subsidiary:

"City now in position to finance purchase of water system. Kindly wire back bottom figure you will accept."

The following telegram from Mr. Newman:

"Your wire price previously authorized by directors represents substantial loss to company. However, if city is serious in its desire to own its water system and in understanding that company is not waiving its right to establish new plant."

Red Cross Fund
Reaches $1,624
in Second Report

Membership Figure Raised to 712; Workers Rally for Final Canvass.

Activity in the roll call of the Marion County chapter of Red Cross was intensified today as workers started on the last days of the drive to raise a membership of 3,000 Marion city and county residents and a fund to meet the 1936 budget of approximately $64,000.

E. H. Shade, roll call chairman, today urged a generous response to the annual campaign for memberships.

Last night's workers' reports at a dinner meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. raised the total membership to 712 and the money contributed to $1,624.40.

Those who have received Red Cross stickers as evidence of their membership have been asked to display them prominently today and Friday. A canvass will be made in the business and residential districts and every home and business place not displaying a Red Cross sticker will be visited to give the occupants a second opportunity to enroll.

Claude F. Bronson, head of the chapter, pointed out last night that complete reports from the industrial and country divisions probably may not be received by Friday. This will be especially true, he said, in the country where it will be virtually impossible to receive full reports from a scattered territory.

The third and last report dinner will be held Friday night at 8 at the Y. M. C. A. All workers will be expected to be present.

Hunters Ready To Take Field At Noon Friday

Sale of Licenses Runs Slightly Behind Last Year; Game Reported To Be Plentiful.

Hundreds of hunters in city and county were oiling their weapons and cleaning mousiekin jackets today in preparation for the opening of the fall hunting season Friday noon.

While the sale of hunting licenses is reported to be slightly under that of last year, it is expected the eleventh hour rush of applicants late today and Friday morning will bring sales up to or over the figure for 1934.

This year, for the first time, the state is putting into effect a new rule, prohibiting hunting before noon on the opening day. It is believed the regulation will do much to halt the annual toll of hunters killed and wounded on the first day.

Game Is Plentiful
O. H. Neimayer, deputy state game protector in this district, predicted today there would be more hunters today than there were in the last several years. Deputy Neimayer said he based his prediction on the substantial increase in the amount of game available.

At noon today 110 licenses had been issued in the office of Clerk of Courts Everett B. Grigsby since Oct. 1. Last year, for the same quarter of the year, 101 licenses were issued in the same office. It is expected the last minute rush today and Friday will bring the number of licenses sold well above the 1934 figure.

Few women are taking out licenses, a checkup of the office and business places selling them showed. The youngest person to take out a license is 18 years old, and the oldest is 72 years of age.

B. F. Waples, Marion township clerk, reported at noon today he had issued 150 licenses, which figure he said is running less than that of last year. Hardware stores, business places dealing in sporting goods, billiard halls and others.

Another article of interest to hunters appear on page 16.

Selling licenses reported a brisk sale yesterday and today. The Bank restaurant at 609 West Center street reported the heaviest sale with 300 licenses issued today.

Hardware stores and other business places selling sporting goods reported an increase in the sales of hunting supplies and equipment over that of last year.

It was a consensus among those buying licenses that increased employment is the reason the sale of licenses is under that of last year and other depression years. Many men are working who were not employed last year and it is difficult for them to find the time to hunt, they said.

At virtually every place where licenses are issued booklets containing a digest of the state game laws are available. Rabbit season (Continued on Page Twelve)

PROHIBITION PARTY PICKS NOMINEES

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—The Prohibition party will choose party nominees for state offices and select delegates to the national convention at its state convention today.

William D. Upshaw of Georgia, former prohibition party presidential candidate, will speak.

The enrolled bodies of Engineer J. F. Burke, 28, and Neal Brewer, 42, both of Columbus, were excited from a locomotive which plunged over an embankment.

Brakeman O. C. Johnson, riding on the rear of the locomotive, was tossed clear.

Prather was dazed by the mishap but was not injured seriously. He said he was alone in the car and that fog prevented him from seeing the approaching train. He lives at New Rumley, O.

The crossing is located a mile east of Jewett.

Eighteen loaded coal cars of the 67-car train left the rails and came to rest in a mass of twisted steel. Other trains of the main line were derailed. Trackage was torn up for 200 yards.

The derailment apparently resulted from disabatement of the pony trucks of the locomotive in the collision with the automobile. The trucks guide the engine.

RELIEF FUND SOURCE SOUGHT AS PROBLEM IS PUT UP TO COUNTY

BURDEN SHIFT
PLAN OPPOSED
Republican Legislator Says Many Counties Unable To Care For All Needy.

C. OF C. LEADER OBJECTS
He and Ohio Institute Official Claim State Must Help Care for Jobless.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—Gov. Davey's plan to shift to Ohio's 43 counties the responsibility of handling their own relief drew quick opposition today.

P. E. Ward, Republican of Geauga county, of the house taxation committee, asserted it would be "absolutely impossible" for many counties, especially the ones in the larger urban centers, to finance their relief needs. They can't get along without some state assistance for relief.

Arch D. Schultz, economist for the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, declared that the state should handle the relief problem for the present. He emphasized he spoke only for himself.

Says State Must Aid
R. C. Atkinson of the Ohio institute, a research body which deals with governmental problems, said that the state would have to be prepared to help shoulder the relief burden. He estimated available relief funds in Cuyahoga county would be exhausted before Feb. 1 and those in Summit county by March 1.

The federal government, which withdrew its role in Ohio relief work last year, said that the state would have to take up the burden.

Ward said that Marion Groseman, Cuyahoga county relief director, and Dayton Frost, assistant federal relief director for Ohio, would be asked to appear before the house committee Monday night for a discussion of the relief situation.

Gov. Davey, long a proponent of county relief, said that he was sending a message to the legislature enabling legislation to permit each county to assume its own relief burden.

Speaker J. F. Bricker, of the house, said that today would convene Thursday to take up a general tax program.

Other Point Approved
Other portions of Davey's message, which called for operation of the state government on existing tax revenues, received qualified endorsement from Schultz and another authority on taxation problems.

Davey advocated continuation of the sales, liquor, cigarette and six per cent intangible taxes; repeal of a senate amendment to the foundation school law which gives schools 45 per cent of the available revenue within the 10-month limitation; and a general bond refunding act to permit refunding of existing obligations over periods of 10 to 20 years.

Carlton B. Dargusch, vice chairman of the state tax commission, called the governor's program "obviously the best solution to most problems."

Schultz said the program coincided in "some respects with the chamber's stand on the problem."

TRAIN WRECK KILLS TWO FROM COLUMBUS

18 Loaded Coal Cars and Locomotive Derailed and Piled Up in Harrison County.

By The Associated Press
JEWETT, O., Nov. 14.—A grade crossing accident wrecked a speeding Pennsylvania railroad freight train at 6:50 a. m. today and killed two trainmen from Columbus.

Another trainman and Edward Prather, a New Rumley, driver of an automobile, hit by the train, were hurt.

The enrolled bodies of Engineer J. F. Burke, 28, and Neal Brewer, 42, both of Columbus, were excited from a locomotive which plunged over an embankment.

Brakeman O. C. Johnson, riding on the rear of the locomotive, was tossed clear.

Prather was dazed by the mishap but was not injured seriously. He said he was alone in the car and that fog prevented him from seeing the approaching train. He lives at New Rumley, O.

The derailment apparently resulted from disabatement of the pony trucks of the locomotive in the collision with the automobile. The trucks guide the engine.

Sheriff Archer Hodge said railroad officials are on investigation of the wreck.

BOARD MEETS WITH DIRECTOR

Moves To Issue Bonds as U. S. Sends Notice of Relief Fund Stoppage.

SERIOUS PROBLEM FACED
Only $68,000 Immediately Available To Pay Jobless After Federal Aid Ends.

Marion county today faced probably the most difficult relief problem in its history as the federal government served formal notice that it will withdraw from direct relief in the county on Dec. 1.

The county commissioners immediately went into session this morning with John Abel, county relief director, in outline tentatively a plan for taking over the relief problem.

The commissioners, as they went into conference, announced they have authorized the issuance of $68,000 in public utility sales tax bonds to be sold Dec. 8 and will use most of this money for direct relief. However, this can provide only for the needs of a few months in this issue, commissioners said, the county is exhausting all sources of relief money that can be tapped without a vote of the people.

Gov. Davey's message in the state legislature recommending that the problem of direct relief be placed entirely in the hands of the counties injected another development and brought from county officials the question, "Where are we going to get the money?"

Formal notice that Dec. 1 is the date when the federal government will quit pouring relief funds into the county was received late yesterday by Relief Director Abel from H. W. Patton, field representative for the federal relief administration in Ohio.

The full significance of this notice could not be gauged this morning, but it is expected to mean the federal government will shut off the flow of relief funds, which have been averaging around $40,000 a month for this county alone. It is certain, Mr. Abel said, that all of the 41 unemployed relief cases in the county's flow will revert to the county's responsibility.

What is needed is $1,500,000 a year, which the federal government plans to take over by providing WPA jobs for employable persons, but which are still not in relief because of lack of WPA work, will be asked for by the federal government or the county after Dec. 1 appeared to be uncertain.

The federal government is certain to help Mr. Abel, said, in the extent of maintaining a small administrative force in the county to clean up government work by Dec. 1 and help the county investigate cases at least during December.

Division of Census
Notice of the government's withdrawal on Dec. 1 found the county's relief cases divided as follows: 441 unemployed cases; 1,201 employable cases still on direct relief, 300 of whom will be shifted to WPA this month when they receive first pay checks for WPA work they are now performing; 400 cases which have been taken over by WPA. Mr. Abel explained that as soon as a client receives his first WPA pay check, his case is closed so far as direct relief is concerned.

SCOTTSBORO NEGROES REINDICTED BY JURY

One Member of Their Race Included Among Jurors Who Returned Indictments.

By The Associated Press
SCOTTSBORO, Ala., Nov. 14.—Prosecution of nine Negroes in the Scottsboro criminal attack case was back today when it started four and a half years ago, with each indicted juror by a mixed grand jury impounded to meet a Supreme court objection.

Creed Conyers, Negro farmer and school board trustee, served on the 18-men jury which late yesterday returned the true bills charging attack.

Conyers lives at Paint Rock, Ala., near the scene of an asserted rape attack on two white girls, Mrs. Virginia Price and Ruby Bates, aboard a southern railway freight train March 26, 1931.

He was one of two Negroes of the venire of 36. Names of the jurors were drawn from a box.

Twice the supreme court has ruled for the defense on appeals of the convicted Negroes. First, it held their counsel had been "incompetent."

Last spring it set aside death sentences imposed on Clarence Norris and Haywood Patterson on the ground there had been "systematic exclusion" of Negroes from grand and trial juries in Alabama county and in Morgan county, where the Scottsboro case was tried.

The report estimated $40,000 would be needed to finance a boarding home program for the first two years.

MURDER SUSPECT ADMITS SLAYING

By The Associated Press
MANASSAS, O., Nov. 14.—Calvin Reed, 35, has an additional one to 20-year sentence to look forward to in Manassas reformatory when his present sentence expires three years hence.

He pleaded guilty to manslaughter yesterday while being tried on a third degree murder charge for the fatal slaying of George Davis, 31, another reformatory inmate. Both boys had been sentenced from Cleveland reformatory.

PLAGUE OF MICE DESCENDS ON CITY

Sale of Traps Sets New Record as Cold Weather Brings Rodents Indoors.

An unprecedented invasion of Marion residences by mice has brought about a new record in the sale of mouse traps here, merchants reported today.

With the approach of cold weather mice are making their annual migration from the fields into houses and their increase has been especially noticeable in the outlying sections of the city which border on, or are near, vacant fields and lots.

One Marion merchant reported today that sale of traps this year is three times the usual output, while others report many customers buying them by the dozen.

That other Ohio communities are suffering a like plague is indicated by an Associated Press report from Fremont to the effect that members there had sold out their entire supply of traps and residents were trying in vain to purchase additional quantities. One store, according to the report, received a partial shipment yesterday and had nearly sold out before it could be unpacked.

MEMBERS ENROLLED BY CHURCH SOCIETY

UNDYING MELODIES IN "BLOSSOM TIME"

Songs of Schubert Featured in Popular Operetta at Palace Tuesday Night.

Marion music lovers will find melodies which will outlast the final farewell tour of "Blossom Time" in the production of the beloved operetta at the Palace theater next Tuesday night.

While all the music of the operetta is beautiful and popular, most of it being based on the songs of Franz Schubert, the great composer, the three most familiar numbers are "Serenade," "Song of Love," and "Lonely Heart." The first of these is an adaptation of Schubert's own serenade, the second embodies the strains from his "Unfinished Symphony," and the third is derived from his beautiful "Ave Maria." All of these melodies have survived the centuries since the musician's death. These unforgettable melodies are woven into "Blossom Time" as the operetta unfolds the supposed incidents in the life of Schubert. The tradition that his "Unfinished Symphony" was inspired by a hopeless love for one of his pupils forms the love theme for the operetta. Everything new in costumes and scenic equipment have been provided for the company's tour, which includes the Hanna theater in Cleveland in a week.

NEW ZEALAND GIRL FLIES ATLANTIC

By The Associated Press
PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, Nov. 13.—Miss Helen Barker, New Zealand flier, added another "first flight" to her list of aerial honors today, becoming the first woman to fly alone across the south Atlantic. She completed a 1,231-mile hop yesterday from Dakar, Senegal. She left for Rio de Janeiro early today to finish her England-to-Brazil flight.

NEWARK EVANGELIST CONDUCTS SERVICES

Elder M. Glover of Newark is conducting a series of revival services at the Apostolic Faith Mission in Jesus Name, at the rear of 200 Sharp street.

Evangelistic services will be held each night this week beginning at 7:30, with exception of Saturday night when the meeting will be turned over to young people of the congregation. Elder Glover, who is 19 years of age, conducts his services in keeping with the old-fashioned religious themes, the pastor, Rev. James O. Craig, announces. Services at the mission Sunday will include Sunday school at 1 p. m. preaching at 3 p. m. and evening services at 7:30.

Your Health BY DR. R. A. COPELAND

Plastic Surgery.
I RECEIVE AN occasional letter asking questions about "plastic surgery." Many are interested to learn if it is safe to undergo a plastic operation.

Plastic surgery has been used for many years, but it is to the military surgeon we are indebted for the remarkable advance made in this art. During the World War the army surgeon was constantly called upon to reconstruct dismembered and damaged parts. Not only was it necessary to restore function, but every humane instinct urged the operator to improve the appearance of torn flesh and unsightly deformities.

The surgeon is called upon to correct a defect which may have been present at birth, or was caused by some early accident. Perhaps burns are the most common cause of disfiguring and disabling scars.

Plastic surgery offers relief to the victim of nasal deformity, bony defect, disfiguring scars and congenital defects. It is the aim of the surgeon to remove all physical handicaps, as well as to improve the appearance of the sufferer.

It is wise to consult with your family doctor about the need of plastic surgery. He will tell you whether an operation is necessary and will direct you to one who specializes in this work.

Keep in mind that the use of plastic surgery if it is to be successful, requires great skill and careful training. Do not confuse the "beauty specialist," or any practitioner of that sort. This expert is a trained surgeon who specializes in work of physical reconstruction. Indeed, he must be an artist. He may resort to clay modeling or plaster modeling before attempting the actual operation. There must be careful study of many things.

Sometimes it may become necessary to graft a large area of skin from the arm or leg. This requires the utmost skill and care. Grafting skin is a procedure of disfiguring scars which have resulted from severe burns and injuries of the face. The cosmetic improvement is usually quite remarkable. It is indeed gratifying to the sufferer who is usually self-conscious of his unsightly scar.

AGENCY TO HANDLE SURPLUS STAPLES

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Federal Surplus Commodity Corp. has been organized to help remove crop surpluses from the market and possibly to subsidize some exports.

Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, heads the new organization which supplants the old Federal Surplus Relief Corp.

The Surplus Relief Corp. has been buying surplus commodities and distributing them to the needy on relief rolls. Henceforth, commodities bought for relief distribution will be turned over to state and local agencies from which some compensation probably will be sought. The corporation has about $7,000,000 available to buy dairy commodities.

JAPAN WARNS CHINA

The Stars Say--

For Friday, Nov. 15

ACCORDING TO the lunar transits on this day, there is excellent promise of advancement, increase and preferment for those in employment, with the assurance of favors and indorsement from those in high places, although there may be some petty anxieties as to details or probable concern about the health or that of an elder.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of promotion, advancement, honors and signs of preferment from employers, patrons or those in position of position and authority. This may come in recognition of industry, diligence and fidelity to their interests. Such tokens of preference should compensate for trivial delays, disappointments or physical depressions.

A child born on this day may be industrious, faithful and dependable and will stand high in the regard of its employers and superiors in position and prestige. Notable nativity: Lewis Stone, movie actor.

THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION

I remember a cleansing dose of liquid laxative, regulating the action to suit the sex, condition and individual needs.

Tomorrow, take Laxol to let the regular, powerful action of bowels do part of the work.

Reduce the dose each time, until regularity is completely restored.

You can find no safer advice than this, to find the solution to your bowel worries.

Just do what hospitals do, and the doctors insist on. Use a liquid laxative, and you can bring yourself to clocklike regularity without strain or ill effect.

You can use a liquid laxative at home. And if you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the real secret of relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. Taking a little less each time, gives the bowels a chance to act of their own accord, until they are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

Once you have experienced this comfort, you will never go back to any form of help that can't be regulated to suit the need!

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit, even in children. The action is gentle, but sure. It will rid the bowels of sluggishness or bilious condition due to constipation. It is the very nicest tasting, nicest acting preparation you can buy. So, try Syrup Pepsin, taking regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

BANKERS DECLARE MONEY IN HANDS OF 'LITTLE' MEN

See Lop-Sided Prosperity with Corporations Having Less Funds and Individuals More To Spend.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—The important economic policy commission of the American Bankers Association said today "little" men and not big corporations now have the money.

The report was made by 15 of the nation's leading bankers as the annual convention neared a close after the spirited selection of Oswald W. Adams of Salt Lake City as second vice president.

Adams, a critic of the Roosevelt recovery program, normally will become president in two years.

The commission said the strange situation in which the average man had more money to spend and the corporations less was producing a rather lop-sided prosperity.

"In the past three years," the report said, "there have been large increases in the consumer purchasing power of great number of our population."

"They have been due to such factors as wage advances in most lines of employment, an increased agricultural income, and to the heavy disbursements of the federal government for public works, for the refinancing of farm and urban mortgages, and for relief."

"The part of our national productive economy which has not made satisfactory progress is that which includes construction, and making of durable goods."

It said the chief reason for lack of production of such things as manufacturing plants and their machinery, ships and locomotives, pipe lines and bridges, cranes and ore docks was that "there has been nearly complete shrinkage in the flow of new capital issues by corporations."

The commission regarded the "huge accumulated surpluses of the depression period as constituting a great industrial opportunity, and our vast excess bank deposits as the means by which we may avail ourselves of that opportunity."

The report said the way to cure unemployment was not through increasing public indebtedness, but by the "creation of new corporate borrowings."

The bankers declared business had "genuinely" improved for farmers, retail merchants, hotel keepers, entertainment managers and most newspapers, but that "20 per cent of our workers are idle, and their numbers have not changed much during the past two years."

They said they did not expect any "important increases in the flow of new capital" in 1936, "or at least in the early part of that year."

The report was signed by Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust Co., chairman; and by the other committee members.

Adams' election came late yesterday after a convention floor fight against the nominating committee's candidate, E. G. Bennett of Ogden, Utah.

Bennett's opponents charged he was indirectly associated with government-controlled financial institutions. He called the charges "bunk" and withdrew his name.

Rogers' Burlesque of Landis Recalled as Banquet High Spot

In connection with a nationwide campaign to raise funds to establish a memorial to Will Rogers, The Star is publishing a series of articles coming from noted men who know the famous humorist and philosopher. One of these articles appears below, with each article there appears a coupon which may be used in making contributions to the memorial fund. Contributions may be forwarded to the Marion County committee, of which Fred W. Warner is chairman, or to any in Marion county, each bank having been named a depository.

Will Rogers loved baseball—and baseball loved Will Rogers. A year ago Rogers attended every game of the World Series between St. Louis and Detroit. He spent all his time with the players of both teams and the newspapermen covering the series.

He wrote much about them then, but now Lou Gehrig, star of the diamond, tells about Rogers. He says:

"I had met Will Rogers several times casually, but the first time Mrs. Pearl Price of near Bellefontaine and Mrs. Martha Underhill of Cincinnati.

The sisters were notified this morning and arrangements for the funeral will not be made until word is received from them.

Will Rogers died at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Markley, 239 East Center street, Marion, Ohio, Nov. 13, 1935.

He came to the Markley home four weeks ago after two weeks in Mary Rutan hospital in Bellefontaine where he underwent a major abdominal operation. He appeared to be recovering, Rev. Markley, who is pastor of Epworth M. E. church, was with him at 3:30 a. m. and about 6 he was found dead in bed.

Mr. Williams and Rev. Markley became close friends in the period from 1908 to 1911 when Rev. Markley was pastor of the Zanesfield M. E. church. For eight years he was employed by the T. & O. C. railroad and in recent years had engaged in practical nursing.

Mr. Williams was born on Christmas day, 1886. He never married. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Lulu Reichelshausen of Zanesfield.

5 PM is a test of how you FEEL

"How do I feel... Rotten! why do you ask?"

"Because, you are not yourself!"

It is all so simple, too! That tired, run-down, exhausted feeling quite often is due to lack of a sufficiency of those precious red-blood-cells. Just build up these oxygen-carrying cells and the whole body takes on new life... food is really turned into energy and strength... you can't help but feel and look better. S.S.S. Tonic restores deficient red-blood-cells... it also improves the appetite and digestion. It has been the nation's standby for over 100 years... and unless your case is exceptional it should help you, too. Insist on S.S.S. Tonic in the blood-red cellophane-wrapped package. The big 30-oz. size is sufficient for two weeks' treatment... it's more economical.

SANITATION WORK SHOWN IN THREE-COUNTY AREA

Motion Picture of Rural Project in Marion, Crawford and Delaware Now Being Shown.

A motion picture depicting progress of community sanitation in Marion, Crawford and Delaware counties has been filmed and is to be shown throughout the three counties to granges and other organizations.

The feature will be screened for the health commissioners at their annual three-day meeting now in progress in Columbus and for county sanitation supervisors at their annual meeting in that city Friday.

The film which is titled "I'll Show You Why" is available to any club or organization in Marion and nearby counties and arrangements for having it screened may be made through the offices of county health commissioners or county sanitation supervisors.

The picture was filmed in the three counties Nov. 6 and 7 by a camera man employed by the sanitation supervisors of the counties.
Eugene B. Willey of Marion county, W. Aukland of Crawford county and F. McKirgan of Delaware county and H. L. Politzgraf district sanitation supervisor.

H. Kroon, regional consultant of the United States public health service and A. W. Laird, assistant state director of community sanitation were in Marion early this month and authorized the supervisors to make the film.

Primary Purpose
The film is primarily designed to promote interest in construction of sanitation outhouses in the rural sections.

It also touches on water and milk sanitation and explains in a visual way what is meant by community sanitation.

Marion county has been allotted $21,088 in federal money to carry through the FERA outhouse program. Of this amount Mr. Willey said $18,576.33 remains. There have been 1,400 FERA units installed in the county. Only one other county in the state has made more installations. Scioto county with 1,450. The Marion county program was started in August of last year.
There are 1,500 units in Delaware,
Crawford and Franklin counties.

On future installations WPA labor will be used. Rural property owners or residents interested in having a unit installed on their properties are to get in touch with Dr. N. Siffritt, county health commissioner or with Harry Webb and William Whitelack, local field representatives who may be reached at the Avenue Lumber Co.

Material Cost Low
The material required to furnish materials for the construction of the unit the cost of which ranges from $750 upward a few dollars depending on size and amount of lumber required. Labor and installation is furnished free by the government through the WPA program. Installation of the units throughout all rural areas in the state and on all milk producing farms has been recommended by the state department of health.

Mr. Willey estimates he has sufficient funds on hand to finance installation of any number of units in the county through the winter months.

The outhouse project is the largest single WPA project in Ohio, slightly less than $3,000,000 having been granted the state to finance
it. It is the second largest works project in the United States, Mr.
Willey said, with operations now going on in 36 states.

Health Commissioners Dr. N.
Siffritt of Marion county, Dr. Bruce Barber of Delaware county and Dr. G. T. Wasson of Crawford county, have endorsed the program and urge rural residents and property owners to take advantage of the opportunity to obtain modern sanitation at low cost.

13 DOGS IMPOUNDED DURING LAST WEEK

Thirteen dogs were impounded in Marion county last week by Elmer Ulton, dog warden according to his weekly report filed in the office of county commissioners.
The warden also reported that three farmers in the county have filed claims for sheep killed or injured by dogs. W. W. Wolfinger of Richland township filed a claim for $5 for one ewe killed.
Daniel Klingel of Richland township filed a claim for $5 for one lamb killed and $4 for two injured lambs. Albert Seckel of Clardon township filed a claim for $30 for three ewes killed, $13 for two injured ewes, and $8 for one injured lamb.

DEMPSEY APPLIES FOR EYE TREATMENT

By The Associated Press
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 14—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, applied at the Wilmer Institute of the Johns Hopkins hospital today for treatment.

The institute is an eye clinic.
Clinic officials said Dempsey is the private patient of Dr. Allan Woods and that he is expected to return in about a week for further treatment.

Dempsey stopped in Baltimore enroute to New York City from Norfolk, Va.

CARD PARTY SET FOR NOVEMBER 27

A public card party Nov. 27 at 2:30 p. m. in the Moose hall was arranged at a meeting of the Women's Benefit association Wednesday afternoon at the local hall.
The card party will follow a business session of the association at 1:30 p. m.

One application for membership was received and one application balloted on. A party of members will go to Shelby Dec. 6 to attend a district rally and school of instruction.

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY!

"Try before you buy" is a good rule to follow when you are in the market for a new truck. The purchase of a new truck is too important to be made blindly or by guesswork, or even on the advice of some well-meaning friend. The safest and surest policy is to find out FIRST what truck will handle your loads with the greatest satisfaction and at the lowest cost. And that's exactly what your Ford dealer invites you to do.

No matter what equipment you now use, make an "on-the-job" test of a 1936 Ford V-8 Truck with your own loads, over your own roads, with your own driver and put V-8 Performance and V-8

They Go Together.

The legislature, facing the problem of performing the deferred task of enacting a tax program, can make its work either hard or easy, whichever it chooses.

If the legislature wants to get into complications, it can do so quickly and thoroughly by expanding the state's present total of expenditures. That will necessitate enactment of additional taxes.

Nothing is more difficult than to devise new taxes. Unfortunately, the next most difficult thing is to resist the pressure for larger appropriations. It is a wise legislator who can sail between Scylla and Charybdis without losing some of his skin.

It is not, however, an impossible accomplishment, nor even an unusual one. It is performed every year in thousands of households in Ohio, where income and expenditures are held in a fixed ratio. There is expert authority behind the contention that Ohio needs no new taxes to support a reasonable spending budget for 1936 and that the budget as it exists in outline at present is reasonable.

Such a statement is, of course, oversimplification of a complex subject. Yet, there may be such a thing as too much complexity, when the collective legislative mind begins to get out of touch with simple principles. One of those principles, which cannot be stressed too heavily right now, is the direct relationship between spending and taxing. They go together, like ham and eggs.

Some Fun.

Wreps of acid smoke blown from England's smiling political campaign along sensitive American nostrils. This country's political contests, bitter as they sometimes are, rarely are accompanied by such roaring configurations of hostility as are common in England.

Heckling, though practiced occasionally in American political meetings, is at least a restrained pleasure among most listeners. Rarely, if ever, do hecklers deny the speaker the right to be heard. In England, on the other hand, hostile listeners frequently outshout the orator. Sir Malcolm Campbell, the automobile speed king, a candidate for parliament, was howled down a few nights ago when he attempted to deliver a speech.

Ramsay MacDonald, lord president of the council and former prime minister, was treated with the same discourtesy. A political speaker in England must stand on his own feet. He can command no tolerance which he is not able to win, either by lung power or sympathetic utterances, apparently.

The practice of heckling, though contrary to American notions of propriety, has its good points. Buncombe is as familiar a part of the political art in England as it is in the United States, but at least the British purveyors of buncombe are placed on the defensive. If it were possible to believe that political audiences were able to discriminate between truth and falsehood and voiced their jeers only for the latter, heckling could be recommended as a likely way of keeping the coming campaign in the United States closer to facts and reason than it promises to be in the current stage of preparation.

It Seems Incredible.

The reply written by Edsel Ford of the Ford Motor Co. to George L. Berry, industrial coordinator in charge of the defunct NRA, will get lots of attention. Mr. Berry deserves credit for letting it be published. It was a bold stroke on his part.

In the last sentence of his brief letter rejecting Mr. Berry's invitation to participate in a conference next month on the desirability of a new plan of industrial organization to replace NRA, Mr. Ford asserts curtly that the government seems to want "unquestionable acquiescence" instead of "experience and counsel."

Mr. Berry's retort—his significant retort—to that statement is that "incredible as it may seem, what I want is counsel and not unquestionable acquiescence."

Does this mark, perhaps, a reversal of the Roosevelt administration's policy of making assertive business men under the steam roller of federal authority? Does it signify that the breathing spell is to be utilized to permit critics of new deal theories and practices to be heard by the new dealers themselves?

In all probability, Mr. Berry hopes to convey, exactly that impression. Regardless of his sincerity or lack of it, the pathetic fact is that his statement still seems incredible. Perhaps the reversal is too sudden. Mr. Berry may have the best intentions in the world, but behind Mr. Berry still stand the stern evangelists who can't raise up The Perfect State till they have locked up industrialists in the doghouse. Can Mr. Berry speak for them, too?

The Merry Junketeers.

Bleated with a minimum of publicity, a large and merry congressional party touring in the far east is setting a new mark for future junketeers to shoot at when they go on excursions at public expense. Led by Vice President Garner and fortified with dignitaries like Sen. Wheeler, Speaker Byrne and Sen. Nye, the party is giving itself over at this writing to the hospitality of the Philippine common wealth.

There have been occasional glimpses of the amazing proportions of the junket—the chartering of a steamship, the festivities at Seattle when the party sailed for Japan, Vice President Garner's visit to the emperor of Japan and the recent rousing welcome at Manila, where the congressmen will be honored guests at the inauguration of the new government.

But these things have been no more than faint echoes. It seems safe to say, of the great fun the party is having. Other junkets have caught the public's attention and, sometimes, its criticism. The Pacific junket, featuring a whole boatload of merry congressmen and their families, is a blessed venture in comparison with some that have preceded it. The moral, which traveling men learned long ago, is that the farther from home you are, the more fun you can have.

For the Excavators.

Slight progress has been made thus far in the search for a suitable answer to Ohio's weightiest problem in 1935: What happened to Ohio State in the second half of the Notre Dame game? Unless something can be worked out around the bridge tables and over the cocktail glasses this winter another football season will fall due with the mystery unsolved.

There is a remote possibility the question still may be puzzling archeologists in centuries to come. For their benefit and not for the benefit of those now living, who prefer to occupy their minds with more obtuse theories, several simple unadorned facts are recorded herewith. In the year 2035 excavators into the gray dust of the past may seize upon them with whoops of scholarly joy. Who knows?

In the second half of the Ohio State-Notre Dame game of 1935, Ohio State was not nearly so good as it was in the first half and Notre Dame was a great deal better. In consequence, Notre Dame scored three touchdowns in the second half and Ohio State, which had scored only two touchdowns in the first half, was defeated 16 to 13. In brief, Ohio State wasn't as good by one touchdown in its good half as Notre Dame was in its good half. Maybe it will be clear to the archeologists.

Implements.

A department of commerce report showing a 600 per cent increase in oil shipped from gulf states in August and September, compared with the same months in 1935, reveals once more the perplexities of neutrality.

Some of the oil is going to Italy. Some of it is going to other European nations building up oil reserves to be prepared for war. Oil, like coal, cotton, scrap iron and other basic commodities, is essential in warfare.

Such things are really more essential than guns, ammunition and bombs. A war conceivably could be fought without guns, if it were impossible to obtain them. But no war could be fought without fuel for ships and trucks, foodstuffs and clothing. They are the real implements. The United States still offers them for sale.

The Siege of Washington.

Casual visitors to Washington from the hinterlands always have been in at ease in the midst of so many jobholders. They sprang from behind chairs and seemed to crawl out of the woodwork.

Part of it was imagination, of course, but recent news from the capital shows that conditions really are getting fearful. The bureaucrats have begun to quarter themselves in apartment houses, turning the residents into the street.

From the beginning of Washington's history as capital of the United States it has been under siege by jobholders. They have come riding into town on every train, on every wagon and in every automobile. The conquest, apparently, is complete now. They are beginning to trample on each other. Washington has fallen.

TRANSPORTATION HISTORY

In the year 1882 Marion was beginning to be recognized as a railroad shipping point. During that year $10,000 pounds of freight was shipped from this point over the Indianapolis division of the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati & Indianapolis railroad.

The cargo included 333 cars of livestock—namely 110 cars of cattle, 14 cars of horses and mules, 95 double-decks and eight single decks of sheep, 78 double-decks and 47 single decks of hogs. During the previous year, 1881, there were forwarded from Marion 231 cars of livestock, including 76 cars of cattle, 10 of horses and mules, 49 double-decks and one single deck of sheep, and 34 double-decks of hogs. The receipts of freight for the year 1882 amounted to 34,404,724 pounds.

O. O. McIntyre
New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Newspaper men are proud of the recent biography George Bell, a newspaperman himself, turned out about Frank A. Munsey. Others had tried to bring a measure of warmth to the job of immortalizing one of the strangest figures in the publishing business, but gave it up.

Nowhere in his make-up could they find an essence of that divine fluid which, for the want of a better name, is called printer's ink. All they could find was lewdness. He had no journalistic instincts, yet the biography title "Forty Years—Forty Millions" capsules the story of his astonishing success.

The best description of Munsey came from Ellnor Glynn. The publisher was in Paris with Frank Crowninshield. One morning after several weeks of their stay Crowninshield ran into Miss Glynn on the Champs Elysees. Munsey was not with him. "Where," asked Miss Glynn, "is our weary gray wolf?"

Munsey was the lenientest and most pathetic of men. For a number of years I lived in the same hotel where he so long resided. Many times late at night I have seen him outside talking to the doorman, house detective or neighborhood night watch, anybody. A millionaire starving for friendship!

The brightly lit all night barber shop down the subway steps from the Palace on West 47th, where the machine gun officers scooped two of Dutch Schultz's pug-noses, has long been a haven of those worldlings whom Broadway breathes as big shots. The acrid who clench black cigars, sport silk monogrammed shirts, smell of barber lotions and are known as Hinky, Slippery and Moo. The shop is in that block dubbed Malaria Alley, one of the toughest fibres on the Tenderloin.

Sudden Thought: The only difference between Broadway and Main street is that on Main street they know each other.

From Hawaii comes a sure-fire baldness cure—the root of the ginger flower long used by Hawaiians so noted for luxuriant growths. My informant had an onion-slick pate, like Bald Jack Rose, but in six weeks there was a fuzz all over his head and in three months a magnificent mane was getting regular weekly hair-cuts. The catch is—there's forever a catch in baldness cures—the bulbs are indigenous to a remote island and cannot be brought to mainland.

Gelett Burgess, who is a chronic discoverer of mass oddities, thinks there should be a Guild of Face Feeders. He asked me to notice in the next restaurant I visited the number, chiefly men dining alone, and while awaiting food, feel their faces. And, sure enough at a Schrafft's I counted six. And an earlobe tigger, too.

When H. T. Webster was in Nova Scotia recently he slumped at a wayside inn for a bite. During the meal a bewhiskered fellow attached himself and continued a running fire conversation not only to the waiting car but for a short ride on the running board. As he hopped off, he called out: "Lots of people around here criticize me for talkin' to strangers, but I keep right on doin' it."

New York's literary life is of a sudden steamed up over the writings of William Randolph Hearst as expressed in his hard-hitting editorial, "F. P. A. in a paragraph panegyric declared: 'I am struck with the excellence of it.' The style has a disarming naivete for which all writers strive but few achieve. I hazard a guess the staccato simplicity is the fruitage of years of dashing off those hurried notations across pages of his newspapers and magazines, which form almost his sole editorial guidance."

Thingumabobs: There is an average of 50 marriages a day at "The Little Church Around the Corner." "Rupert Hughes still writes in long hand. Chauncey Depew sent his barber $100 every Christmas but never tipped him. Lloyd George has a sky tiercer that only howls when Wagnerian music comes over the radio. Jimmy Walker's Burlington Arcade lounge robes are something new in splendor. Burton Rascoe is wealthiest of the book critics.

I was listening to one of those brief radio summaries of the day's stock market this evening which ended "Colton was quiet." And a lady across the room observed: "That's one thing about Colton. It never gets noisy."

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Nov. 14, 1925.

A survey revealed that Christmas savings deposits in Ohio would total $16,000,000. In Marion the amount was $125,000.

Loadings of freight to the United States for the week ended Oct. 24 were next to the highest on record, being 1,121,439 cars. The highest figure ever reached was during the week of Aug. 23, which exceeded the October week by 2,807 cars.

The first public school party ever given by the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Association building, and was declared to be one of the most successful events in the history of the organization.

Miss Rhea King was hostess to the Decem Canoeists club at her home on South Grand avenue.

The Harding High school football team defeated Delaware High school on the fairground gridiron here, 40 to 0. Knight scored two touchdowns for Marion, and Johnson, Cunningham, McWhorter and Rife, one each.

The feature picture at the Marion theater was "We Moderns," with Colleen Moore in the leading role, while at the Grand theater the feature was "Quo Vadis," and at the Orpheum it was "The Fighting Heart," with George O'Brien in the star role.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Nov. 14, 1915.

Waller Webb returned to his home in Dayton after a visit with relatives here. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Tanner of Farming street, and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Payne of Uncapher avenue.

The Baracks football team of Columbus was defeated by the Marion Questions, 7 to 0. Marion's touchdown was scored by Mason.

A company of 30 friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bond were entertained at the Bond home two miles west of Marion in celebration of Mrs. Bond's birthday anniversary.

Miss Marie Berridge and John Roush, both of Marion, were united in marriage by Rev. H. H. Hoyt at the First Baptist parsonage.

Old folks day was observed with special services at the German M. E. church. Rev. Jacob Bochsahler, a former pastor, giving the sermon.

Behind The News In Washington and Wall Street

ST. PAUL, MALLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The government has its own secret unemployment figure. Only top officials see it. Ordinary government statisticians are never permitted a glimpse.

It runs a little higher than the published figures, especially those of the American Federation of Labor. A few days ago it stood at about 10,700,000.

Authorities on the subject believe the secret figure is only slightly more accurate than the published ones. All are largely guess work. Even the A. F. of L. is now revising its estimating system. No adequate unemployment figures exist.

A top-notch economist here has made a private check of the relationship between employment and unemployment since the new deal started.

His estimate indicates that unemployment in March, 1933, was 16,000,000 and in August, 1935, about 11,100,000, a decrease of 3,900,000. But employment increased from 24,800,000 in March, 1933, to 39,500,000 in August this year, an increase of 4,700,000.

What it means is that, while 4,700,000 more people are working, there are only 3,900,000 fewer unemployed.

The disparity is due to the increasing number of employables who never have had work. The number of employables is supposed to have increased about 3,000,000 since 1929.

Another phenomenon of these new unemployment figures is that this year they will average as high as last year in spite of all the business improvement. The best expert guess is that for 1935 the average will be 11,500,000 (so far). The average for 1934 also was 11,500,000.

Even in 1929 the average was 2,000,000 and in 1933 a peak of 13,000,000 was reached.

The biggest decrease in unemployment was during the first seven months of the new deal when 4,000,000 persons were put back to work. There has not been any comparable improvement since.

Some conservative articles by ex-director of budget Lewis Douglas have attracted so much attention, as published by a monthly magazine, that they are now being printed in pamphlet form.

Some conservative new dealers are suggesting quietly that President Roosevelt put up an entirely different campaign front by appointing Douglas to the cabinet as treasury secretary. The suggestion may be somewhat fantastic in view of the personal situation existing between the two men.

However, there is strong talk among Republican bigwigs again about taking up Douglas. He probably will not be offered the nomination because of his old-fashioned Democratic tariff views. But there is good reason to believe he may be offered an important fiscal post in the next Republican cabinet, if there is one.

Note—Douglas now is running the American Cyanamid Co. in New York. It is completely absorbed by the business, has no connections with Wall Street, is not tampering with politics and has no political aspirations.

On the Whole
The Literary Digest writes: "The phrase 'on the whole' was omitted in the present referendum in order to clarify and simplify the question, because, in the previous (1934) poll, thousands of voters, and a number of newspapers, interpreted this phrase into a variety of different meanings which apparently confused them in their balloting. The publishers of the magazine omitted the phrase because they felt that the general aim and the functioning of the New Deal as a national policy should be well known by now in voting public, due to the extensive publicity which it has received in the daily press and the issue it has made in elections throughout the country since its innovation."

Tightening Up
It was a rainy night when President Roosevelt attended the New York Masonic ceremonies for two years. Traffic was thick at 7:30 p. m., the downtown lane on Park Avenue was lined with police. At every corner they compelled traffic at cross streets to go straight on through, keeping Park Avenue clear for the President.

One chauffeur gave a strong argument to a cop, saying his boss lived on Park Avenue, and was expecting the car at that time, and the delay would probably cost him a job. Police nevertheless pushed him up a side street. When Mr. Roosevelt came along, he was in an open car surrounded by a motorcycle escort.

The caustic comments from the Park Avenue dwellers cracked like flint on steel. Also steel-like was Mr. Roosevelt's endurance, which he cared not what Park Avenue might have been if it were not for the President.

The secret service has lately been more careful in making traveling arrangements to safeguard the President. The White House detail has been entirely reorganized since Mr. Hoover left. Most of the old hands have been shipped to outlying districts.

BY JAMES MCULLIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—New Yorkers in close touch with Washington interpret Secretary Cordell Hull's advocacy of closer cooperation with the League of Nations as designed primarily for Italian consumption. They point out that Hull knows his senate too well to have any illusions that such august-body would confer any such powers on the administration as would be necessary to carry out such a policy. Besides, the popular will is clearly on record against any intervention in European affairs.

But Italy isn't likely to realize the inherent weakness in Hull's position. After all, he occupies the highest post in the United States government directly concerned with foreign affairs. Inferentially at least he reflects the views of the President. In his present harassed economic position, Mussolini may well forget what an earlier senate did to Woodrow Wilson's foreign policy and notice only that a responsible American official implies a possible future course of action which might have serious consequences for Italy. His reaction to this might help to influence him into paths of greater discretion. If it does, keen observers figure that Hull will have achieved his purpose of chilling an aggressor nation's zest for war without committing the United States to lift so much as a military or economic finger.

Comment runs that in that case he would certainly rate as a true M. D.—Master of Diplomacy. New York was amused by the timidity of his speech when Senators Nye and Wheeler—most ardent neutrality—warned advocates of strict neutrality—in the far-away Philippines and therefore unlikely to jump him for it.

Financial insiders credit Germany with a clever maneuver last week in her announcement—even though it was subsequently denied—that she would refuse to ship arms to Italy and would ban purchases of war materials to be resold to Italy at a profit.

There are two excellent reasons why she won't sell war materials to Italy. One is that she needs all of these she can get for her own purposes. The other is that Italy has practically nothing to use for money. Germany has no more desire to extend credit to Italy than we have. Nor does she wish to become a dumping ground for Italian commodities—so payment in kind is out of the question.

Naturally she doesn't mention these points out loud. So she sets credit for a moral gesture that cannot help but appeal to Britain—and one of the cardinal points in Hitler's foreign policy is to make sure that Britain stays neutral when Germany is ready to step out.

Test
The legal principles set forth in Judge Coleman's adverse decision on the holding company law would be upheld—automatically invalidating the Guffey coal act. But the coal companies will not follow the example of their utility brethren and refrain from massing for registration under the new code. For one thing, they aren't at all sure that the same reasoning does apply to their case. For another, the northern mines really welcome the law as their only hope of offsetting the competitive advantage which the south enjoys because of a lower wage scale.

All the important Pennsylvania companies but one have already signed up. The exception is Andy Mellon's Pittsburgh Coal—always a lone wolf. But Andy is on both sides of the fence—as his Kopper's outfit lost no time hopping on the band-wagon. Insiders estimate that corporations representing between 65 and 70 per cent of total bituminous tonnage mined will eventually register without an argument.

Shrewd observers figure that coal—as a commodity produced intrastate and largely used by interstate carriers (over which the jurisdiction government admittedly has jurisdiction)—offers the best possible legal test of federal power to regulate industry under the Constitution as it stands.

Burden
Desperate financial conditions in the states stand in the way of any plan to shift the relief problem to their shoulders. Lawmakers are forced to have regard for the situation in their respective states when passing upon any program that Roosevelt may propose.

The states have more than $1,000,000,000 due them in delinquent taxes—and no method has been found to collect. More than half of Florida's acreage is delinquent. Interest charges on old bond issues are piling up, making sales taxes and other impositions necessary.

New York figures it a safe bet that lawmakers will balk at allowing the President to shove off any added burdens on their respective states. Their home folks feel they are overtaxed already and are saying so.

Financial men foresee that this parlous situation in the states will complicate President Roosevelt's budget-making no end. If he could transfer relief to the states he would be able to show a marked reduction in federal emergency appropriations.

He could then present an encouraging prospect of budget-balancing, in view of increased revenues and proposed retrenchments. Last January he said: "This business of federal relief must stop." That remark was applauded by lawmakers who now quiver when they realize that stopping it would mean a heavier load upon their debt-laden states.

The easiest way out is to continue federal borrowing. Legislators can then go home and assure their constituents that they ward off added taxes which would have loomed as high as the Rockies.

Questions
New York employers are in a dither about the state's old age pension law, which goes into effect on Jan. 1, 1936. There are a thousand and one questions they want answered—but, with the deadline less than two months away, they can't get any answers from state authorities. There's nothing they can do but mark time and make as few additions to payrolls as possible.

Squeeze
Ex-Chairman Kingsland Macy remains a thorn in the side of the state G. O. P. organization. He just won't stay dead. There's no need of squeezing him out entirely—but that won't be any cinch. He still has enough faithful followers to raise plenty of Cain if the regulars want a battle.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

The Old Treatment Office Shows Happy Relief Of Pain
Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't waste out a day and so get rid of more than a pound of waste matter your 10 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.
If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and distention.
Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS—which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

Boys Get a Lesson in Taking Fish On Hook.
MR. GIBBS again saved the day with his tact and resourcefulness as Roderick, finally accepting with joy the decision that he was entitled to the credit for catching the first big fish of the summer. Roderick, gingerly approached the landing net enclosing the now feebly flopping bass, with the intention of relieving the hook.
"Just a second, son!" he said authoritatively. "Here's another thing I always do up here. When newcomers to bass fishing come out, I always show them about taking the fish off the hook. Bass are mighty funny things. They can play possum like nobody's business, and then give a flop that will send them right out of the boat. You wouldn't want to lose this fellow, would you?"
You're sure you show all the newcomers about that? Roderick quavered, and Junior said impatiently.
"Don't be a goof, Rod. Don't you hear Mr. Gibbs tellin' you?" Shows Boys How "I've showed much bigger men than I am," Mr. Gibbs said with a comfortable laugh that camouflaged the evasion Roderick meekly said "Yes sir."
Mr. Gibbs beckoned to Junior.
"You come here too," he directed, thus making the bit of theatricalism complete. You both must learn this. Before the summer is over you'll be handling these babies like nobody's business, but this fellow is too big. I'll have to help you get him out. Now watch the way I take hold of him."
He thrust his hand into the net, and though I could not see his movements I knew that they were swift and expert. The next instant he had the fish free of the net and held firmly in one hand.
Roderick is proud.
"Now," he said to Roderick, "put your fingers in here— he indicated the mouth of the bass— until you can grasp this end of the hook. He hasn't swallowed it, that's one good thing, but he's hooked himself as tight as a drum. Now work the hook around carefully—that's right, you're fished before—and there you are! Here! take him yourself now and put him in the creel— Junior open it for him. Then you can show him to your aunt."
Triumphantly every trace of doubt gone Roderick passed the creel to me and positively gloated as I exclaimed in genuine admiration at the size of the bass. I was happy as well as admiring for a troublesome fear had been taken from me. Junior was showing no trace of jealousy. Indeed I wondered the next second if he were overdoing his encomiums, laying himself open to the accusation of being silly.
"Gee! Rod," he was saying, "I bet that fellow weighs nearly three pounds!"
Guess Its Weight
"Junior!" I admonished sharply. "Think a second!"
Mr. Gibbs eyes twinkled. "What do you make it, Mrs. Graham?"
I scrutinized the fish carefully, wishing I had not spoken for I never had estimated the weight of a bass before and from the expectant looks of Junior and Roderick I knew that I was on trial.
Well over a pound, I said finally, but I do not think more than a pound and a quarter. But I may be mistaken. I never have estimated a lake bass before.
"No I don't think you're mistaken," Mr. Gibbs said, the twinkle in his eyes replaced by an expression of respect. Boys just remember that estimate. We'll take him down to my house and weigh him before you clean him."
But the pride of the boys in my judgment was tempered by sore disappointment.
Only a pound and a quarter! They chorused dismally.
Go After More
"Probably not quite that," Mr. Gibbs said. But what do you want the first time you drop your line overboard? You can be mighty proud of that baby. And will he make good eating? Now let's see, who gets the next one? That fellow won't make a sapper for all you folks. They're biting fine this afternoon. Boys, suppose you both put bellgrammies on your rods, what do you say?"
"Oh, yes, sure," they chorused eagerly, though a (I) remembering to keep their voices down. In another minute they were settled down to fishing again.
There were no more "whoppers" such as Roderick had brought in, but Mr. Gibbs had spoken truly when he said the fish were "bitting fine" and the boys and Mr. Gibbs had three more small bass, just enough above the legal limit so that they need not be thrown back, while I had a respectable string of my cherished sunfish, displeased by real fishermen augmented with two good sized perch when the sun suddenly went down and I saw the boys give unmistakable shivers.

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY—SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Low Fat The New Way—Without Starvation Diet or Back-Breaking, Bending and Riffing Exercise. There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often their results in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little placed is not working right. All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream every one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on weight. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace. Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat have been wiped out this way. Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So why not lose fat the easy way—without starvation diets or back-breaking, bending and rolling exercises? Start the Marmola treatment today! That millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists.

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Big Relief! No Coughing! So Easy!

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare, and costs very little, but it positively has no equal for quick, lasting relief. Get 2 1/2 ounces of flour. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Thus you make a full pint of better ready than you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It never spoils and tastes fine.

This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases the soreness in a way that is really astonishing. Fluor is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its effect in stopping coughs quickly. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

INAUGURAL GUEST

REV. THOMAS D. EWING

COLLEGE TO GREET SCION OF PIONEER

Great Grandson of First Ohio U. Graduate To Attend Inauguration Friday.

Special to The Star
ATHENS, O., Nov. 14—Among the more than 200 distinguished educators and other guests who will gather at Athens on Friday, Nov. 15, for inauguration of Dr. Herman G. James as twelfth president of Ohio university, will be Rev. Father Thomas D. Ewing, S. J., a great grandson of the university's first graduate, Thomas Ewing, and a grand-nephew of William Tecumseh Sherman, Civil war general.

Although Ohio university was established in 1804, it was not until 1815 that the first degree was conferred, Ewing becoming the first college graduate in the state of Ohio and in the Northwest Territory.

Thomas D. Ewing, the great-grandson, is a graduate of St. Louis university and at the present time is professor of history at John Carroll university, Cleveland. He will represent the Cleveland institution at the inaugural ceremonies next Friday. He was in Athens in 1915 to participate in the exercises marking the centennial of the graduation of his famous forbear.

After graduation in 1815, Thomas Ewing practiced law at Lancaster. In 1831, he was elected to the United States senate in which body his oratory and sound reasoning were compared favorably with that of Daniel Webster, his contemporary. He was appointed secretary of the treasury by William Henry Harrison in 1841, and in 1849 was named secretary of the interior by Zachary Taylor when that cabinet post was created.

Upon the death of his close friend, Judge Charles R. Sherman, Ewing took into his family the former's son William Tecumseh Sherman, who later became the great Civil war general. After Sherman's graduation from West Point he married Ellen Boyle Ewing, eldest daughter of Thomas Ewing. Of the four Ewing sons two became major generals and one a brigadier general in the United States Army, while the fourth became chief justice of the state of Kansas.

First Round of Play in County Basketball Friday

EIGHT TEAMS READY FOR ACTION THIS WEEK; GIRLS TO PLAY

Waldo-Morral Game Tonight: Three Schools To Start Next Week.

First games in the county basketball league are to be played Friday night, according to the 1935-36 schedule just released by the Marion county department of athletics.

E. A. Moore, chairman of the committee in charge, reported that 11 teams will be entered in competition. Eight of the teams open the season this week while Green Camp, Kirkpatrick and Pleasant are idle until next week.

Present plans indicate that Meeker, although not entered in the league season, will have a team in the county tournament which will wind up the season in February.

The Waldo-Morral game originally scheduled for Friday night is to be played tonight at Waldo. A majority of the rural schools are expected to have girls teams this year. Schools that organize girls teams will play on the same schedule set up for boys, the girls' contests being arranged as preliminaries to the boys' games.

The schedule for the season, as announced today, follows:

Nov. 12, 1935
Prospect at Caldwell.
Lafayette at Marion.

TWO DISTRICT GRID CONTESTS FRIDAY

Mt. Gilead, Mansfield Madison To Play Title Match of Mid-State League.

Two football games this week bring on the last "roundup" in district football competition. Games scheduled to be played this Friday have aroused considerable interest among followers of the teams.

Marion and Mt. Gilead will battle Friday afternoon for supremacy in the Mid-State League. Neither team has lost a conference game, nor have they lost to any class B opponents. It is the third straight year that the teams have fought out the deciding battle of the conference. The Marion team has won both previous title games, winning last year by a 13 to 12 score.

The other final game of the season will bring together Marysville and Mechanicsburg. Both teams have created enviable records during the season and should put up a stiff battle in the final encounter Friday at Mechanicsburg.

Other teams in the district have already completed their regular grid season and have now turned to heavy training for the opening of their basketball seasons, which are to begin in the near future.

ROSS GROLL HITS TARGET FOR 453

Teams No. 2 and 4 of the Marion Revolver association met on the range last night. Team 2 under Captain Leo Groll collected high score with 1989. Ross Groll led the team with a score of 453. Captain Larry Schneider, No. 4 team, was consistent in hitting the mark for 1974, the captain led his team in scoring, with 423 points.

No. 2 Team

By The Associated Press
BIRMINGHAM, N. Y.—Joe Savolli, 105, Three Oaks, Mich., and Dean Detton, 205, Salt Lake City, drew. One fall each. Both knocked out in third fall.

COLUMBUS, O.—Everett Marshall, 224, Dns Molins, Ia., threw Leon Grandorff, 210, Russia, 25-05.

HIOYOKKE, Mass.—Mike Marzetti, New York, defeated Billy Hartman, Chicago, two out of three falls.

TO PICK GALLON CAGERS

GALLON, Nov. 14.—With football out of the way this week, Coach Robert Conry and Assistant Coach John Burman will have an almost entirely new basketball team to develop. The first call for the cage season is issued for next Monday afternoon when a squad will be picked. Ray Fridrich who played center last year, is the only letterman returned this year.

SIGNS TO FIGHT

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Barney Ross, welterweight champion, has signed to meet Cefarino Ornela of California in a return 10-round non-title match at the Chicago stadium, Nov. 29. Garcia and his manager have guaranteed Ross $12,500.

"PRO" FOUND ON COLLEGE GRID TEAM

Ted London of Oak Park, Ill., former professional football player, is alleged to have admitted playing under assumed name this season on the City College of New York team before he was discovered by authorities and expelled. He is the second notable case of its kind to be revealed this year.

LEVINSKY ENTERS WRESTLING GAME

By The Associated Press
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—Kingfish Levinsky, who gave up a promising future peddling fish for the bright lights of boxing, today picked himself a brand new career—prowling under the nation's excess wrestling pachyderma.

The lusty beller from Chicago, who tangles here Tuesday night in a 10-round rough and tumble with Ray Steele, veteran heavyweight grappler, sees his first mixed bout as an "open sesame" to an era of easy money.

LAYTON LOSING BILLIARD CROWN

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—They called Johnny Layton, the man who quit the carpenter's trade to do tricks with the ivory, a former world's three-cushion billiard champion today.

The Scudella, Mo., entry still had a mathematical chance to retain his crown but it was very slight. He lost his third straight match to Allen Hall, of St. Louis, 50 to 41 in 35 innings yesterday. The defeat sent Layton into seventh place.

BACON TO ATTEND BASKETBALL CLINIC

State Group To Encourage Similar Meetings in Districts of Ohio.

Francis W. Bacon, widely known in Ohio collegiate circles as a basketball and football official, has been invited by H. R. Townsend, state athletic commissioner, to attend a statewide basketball clinic at Fort Hayes Hotel in Columbus, Friday night.

The session has been called as the key meeting for representatives from districts throughout Ohio. Following a dinner to be held at the hotel at 6:30 p. m., the group will discuss and interpret the 1935-36 season rules and regulations for basketball games.

The purpose of the meeting is to form a state organization of key men, who will conduct similar basketball clinics in their own districts at a later date.

D. T. Miller, county school superintendent, said today that the basketball clinic for Marion county and other nearby counties will be held Dec. 9. Details for the arrangements are now being planned, and definite announcement concerning counties to be represented at the meeting here will be made following the state meeting Friday night.

Strong Team To Meet Harding Gridders Here Friday

BUCCYRUS SQUAD HAS WELL-DRILLED LINE, BEST AERIAL ATTACK

Members in Last Two Visits to Marion; Win Four This Season.

A record of nearly 450 per cent in nine games, having won and lost five, the Bucyrus football team will bring a strong aggregation here Saturday to meet the Harding High Prep team in the final game of the season for both teams.

The record of the Bucyrus team is to indicate that it has the power and stamina to win games in the winning column. Although slightly lighter than the Harding line, it is well drilled and drilled to precision. The feature of the Bucyrus team's usual attack is the accurate aerial barrage which players release at almost any stage of the game.

Show Passing Strength

In eight pass attempts against Gallon two weeks ago the Bucyrus squad completed five for total of 58 yards gained. It also used the always to a good advantage in its game with Willard last week, but fell to defeat before a strong Willard offense by the score of 14 to 26.

Reports from Crawford county give information that Bucyrus will start almost identically the same squad against Marion that opened last week in the Willard battle. Carle, Culver, Truka and Dye, the galloping and passing backfield, will train their big guns on the Crammermen in their attempt to win the third successive game from the Marion team. In the last three years Marion has won one encounter with the Bucyrus school. It was back in 1932 that the Presidents scored the last victory registered over the Crawford county team, by a score of 32 to 20.

Marion lost the two following games by a much closer margin.

Win Four Out of Nine

A record for the 1936 season shows that Bucyrus has defeated such teams as Delaware, Fostoria and Tiffin Columbian and has lost to several strong opponents, including Tiffin Calvert and Shelby. The complete record, with scores, is:

Bucyrus 12, Delaware 0.
Tiffin Calvert 19, Bucyrus 0.
Bucyrus 7, Tiffin Columbian 6.
Bucyrus 20, Fostoria 7.
Shelby 6, Bucyrus 0.
Bucyrus 12, Columbus Central 0.
Fremont 45, Bucyrus 0.
Gallon 13, Bucyrus 6.
Willard 26, Bucyrus 14.

Presidents Drilling

Meanwhile the Presidents are continuing workouts at the stadium field and will hold dress rehearsal practice there Friday night. After a two-day rest from usual workouts the team went back to work last night. Coach Carl Crammer said, "The short rest certainly did the team a world of good; the boys worked hard at practice last night and ended the fast scrimmage session with plenty of pep."

"We intend," he said, "to continue with scrimmage work tonight and taper off Friday in preparation for the game." No pregame announcements were made concerning the starting lineup of the Harding team, but it is more or less certain that little change will be made from the line-up used

COCHRANE SEEN AS LIKELY SUCCESSOR TO FRANK J. NAVIN

Manager-Player Who Led Club to Championship Probable Tiger President.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Nov. 14 — As baseball men recovered from the shock of the sudden death of Frank J. Navin, one name was most prominent today in the speculation of the successor to the man who guided the business destinies of the Detroit baseball club for more than 30 years.

That name was Gordon S. Cochrane, field player-manager, who in two years led the Tigers from a lowly place in the American league to a world championship.

Since coming to Detroit as manager Cochrane has been closely associated with Mr. Navin in directing the affairs of the club and several observers believe the Tiger president was grooming Mickey to become his successor.

Funeral services for Mr. Navin will be held at the Blessed Sacrament Catholic church Saturday.

Stato electrically has been harnessed to run a motor invented by a Minnesota man.

BOHYER LOOKING OVER CANDIDATES FOR VARSITY

Candidates for positions on the varsity squad of the Harding High basketball team have been continuing practice during this week on a heavy schedule. Workouts this week, under the direction of Coach R. N. Bohyer, were for the purpose of conditioning the players and to determine what men will be considered in the final roundup of varsity material.

With the opening game only a little more than three weeks away, formal call for all candidates will be made following the final football game this week. Dec. 6 is the date set for the official opening of the 1936-37 season. On that date the Presidents are scheduled to play Upper Sandusky.

Several members of the football team, who were successful in winning varsity basketball letters last season, are expected to be out for practice early next week. Players now getting into form in the workouts at the high school gymnasium include several first string men from last year's players who are being for positions on the junior varsity squad and a host of other hopeful candidates.

Nearly 30 men were out to practice last night and Coach Bohyer sent the entire roster through fast scrimmages and practice drills. Several new men who have talent yet to be developed have been spotted in the course of the practices.

Shelby, the only other North Central Ohio league team which has completed its football season, has also begun work on bringing its cage team into shape for the coming season.

All the other N. C. O. teams are playing football this weekend and two teams will not complete their grid schedule until Nov. 23. Mansfield and Mt. Vernon meet in the grand finale of the N. C. O. league competition in a game to be played at Mansfield on that date which marks the close of all grid competition. From then on all N. C. O. conference schools will buckle down to hard training in preparation for the cage season.

Schmidt Not Optimistic About State-Illinois Tilt

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Ohio State gets its change Saturday to avenge its lone football defeat of 1934, but Coach Francis A. Schmidt of the Bucks is not certain whether his charges will avenge that blot or take another one on the chin.

Coach Robert Zupke of Illinois, the "Michael Angelo of the Prairie," brings his fighting Illini to Columbus for Saturday's contest, and for the first time this year the Bucks are not a top-heavy favorite.

The 18-13 defeat at the hands of Notre Dame, and the 13-0 lead which Chicago built up before the Bucks started scoring last Saturday, helped drag the Bucks from the "favorite" spot, but the showing of Zupke's gladiators has had something to do with the shortening odds.

At the beginning of the season the canny Dutchman from Champaign made a statement.

"We will win three games this fall, if we don't do anything else," he said.

And when asked which three games the Illini would win, his answer was:

"Southern California, Michigan and Ohio State."

So far he has made good on that boast. Little Ohio University of Athens handed Illinois a surprising 7 to 0 upset in the opener, but in the next game the Illini went to the coast to drug Southern California.

Then came a couple of defeats, but Zupke and his fighting clan bobbed up last week with a 3 to 0 verdict over the up-and-coming Wolverines of Michigan after Michigan had been touted to win by a couple of tons.

The Illini not only beat Michigan, but held the Wolverines to a lone first down, and a grand total of 10 yards gained from rushing.

Last year, with Ohio State startling all the rest of the Big Ten, Illinois romped in with a 14-13 decision over the rampaging Bucks—the lone black mark on the Ohio record. That lone point kept Coach Schmidt from a tie for the Big Ten title in his first year in the "big time."

A dozen Ohio States will make their last home appearance in the Scarlet and Gray uniform Saturday. They are: Ernest House of Blacklick, Trevor Rees of Dover, John Kabealo of Youngstown, Capt. Homer Jones of Cleveland, Dick Harkin of Cincinnati, Gilbert Hays of Toledo, Tom Georgeopolos of Cleveland, Frank Fisch of Mansfield, Sam Busch of Lorain, Frank Boucher of Kent, Dick Belts of Findlay, and Stan Placura of Lorain.

BEN SELLS JR. HIGH IN FIELD OF SPORTS

Former Marion Boy Combines Archery and Angling.

Combining archery with angling, Ben Sells Jr., nephew of Pearl Sells of 146 South Vine street, is gaining a wide reputation among southern California sportsmen. Sells is the son of Ben Sells of Venice, Calif., who until he left Marion about 12 years ago was a millwright at the Osgood Co. plant. Young Sells attended school both in Marion and Prospect.

He recently caught a 200-pound shark with his bow-and-arrow methods, but Japanese sunfish weighing from 40 to 80 pounds are his special sport. The fish will not take bait and young Sells calls their bluff by hooking his fishing line to an arrow, taking aim and letting the bowstring fly.

His picture, showing him engaged in the latest sports wrinkle, has appeared in papers throughout the world, according to word received from California, and his prowess with his bow and arrow has brought him invitations to join some of the country's wealthiest sportsmen in their jaunts to southern waters for big-game fishing.

No More Hemorrhoids

Physician's Internal Pile Remedy Guaranteed.

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give lasting relief.

Your Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause. External treatment can't do this—an internal medicine should be used.

HEN-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, and restores the affected parts.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when HEN-ROID & Cooper's Pile Ointment will remove the cause of your Piles? HEN-ROID with guaranteed money-back if not permanently satisfied with the one bottle given.
